

NIGHT 1 "THURSDAY NOVEMBER 20"

Marwan & The Mojos

His style strongly influenced by David Gilmour, Steely Dan and many other classic rock musicians. The guitarist, Singer has been fascinating the crowd in the UAE with his versatile repertoire joined by the Mojos, a group of highly talented musicians.

Jonas Desai

A great truehearted and charismatic talent who has been roaming on international stages including Dubai, Sweden and London, singer and songwriter from Sweden, Jonas is in the middle of releasing his debut album. His music is a blend of guitar driven songs, set to a catchy pop melody yet sensual and passionate.

Cormac Kenevey

Captivating audiences with unique blend of melodic and rhythmic ability, Cormac built a hard-earned reputation as a leading performer of the popular songbook and a Jazz professional. His heartfelt interpretations display a great regard for those artists whom he cites as major influences.

Guy Manoukian & Friends

Composer with grand ambitions with exposure to musical diversity and cultural wealth, Manoukian composed and produced a wide array of musical albums acquiring success internationally. In 2002, Guy won the MUREX award for best composition and best tune in the Arab world, for his hit 'Harem and added to his achievements the Arab Music Award for Best dance album.

NIGHT 2 "FRIDAY NOVEMBER 21"

Paul Akiki

Best described as a musician who combines sensual lyrics and improvised rhythms, Paul's musical realm emerges from behind his guitar and piano. With a record of several remarkable tracks, he strongly became an essential of the local music scene along with his highly talented band fellows.

Colour Of Rhythm

Formed in April 2008, the band is an ensemble of many forces, both musically and in the personalities that compose it. Deriving its direction from the elements of Funk, Jazz, Latin, and African, it is both groove driven as well as melodically accessible, with the fiery nuances one would expect from these musicians.

Natalie Williams

With 3 critically acclaimed albums under her belt, Natalie became an essential fixture on the jazz scene. She performed as a solo artist all over the UK and at international festivals like Montreux Jazz Festival. She also won best video at the 2007 Urban Music Awards for her single 'This Girl'. Natalie is currently working on her new album to be released end of 2008.

Ben Granfelt

Awarded the Golden Emma award as best guitarist by the Sounds Guitar Society in Finland Ben played all around the planet with record of 450 shows and 9 CDs with the 10th on the way. The Ben Granfelt Band has toured successfully with Deep Purple and many other music greats with immense fans applaud and press positive critics.

NIGHT 3 "SATURDAY NOVEMBER 22"

Afif Brothers Quartet

Their passion for rhythm was revealed in early years and was acquainted with the essence of the traditional Arabic music. The Afif Brothers band Crossed the border of oriental music towards the western musical world to become one of the most popular talent in our region.

Abram Wilson

One of the most exciting trumpet players on the scene today; Wilson has great trumpet chops thrusting him into the new arena of jazz hopefuls. Jazz Warrior is a solid debut featuring a group of musicians who can play with the best of them. Wilson plays trumpet in true Crescent City style.

Anita Wardell

Promoted by the most popular jazz publications as "the real thing who can fluently scat and vocalese!" and the "model of the Jazz singer's art, highlighting her clarity and improvisational skills, Anita's winning of the prestigious BBC Jazz Award for Best of Jazz 2006 assured her presence in the Jazz scene. 2008 will witness the release of her new album "Kinda Blue".

Larry Garner

Garner's original songs mark all his records; he rarely plays other people's music. In tunes like "Virus Blues" or "If She Tells You No," listeners can tell that Larry Garner is paying close attention to what is happening and putting it into songs, which is what good jazz/blues performers are known for.
